A Message From President Fred Zuckerman

In December, a four year long nightmare finally ended as Matt Bevin, the most anti-worker and anti-union Governor in Kentucky's history, left office. The damage Bevin did will not be repaired overnight. It may take months, it may take years, perhaps even decades to undo the extremely anti-worker policies he put in place. But for now, the immediate danger has passed, and we can finally focus on correcting the mistakes of the last four years.

I would like to congratulate our newly elected Governor, Andy Beshear. All labor across the Commonwealth rallied around Beshear in his bid to unseat Bevin. It was a hard fought fight, but one worth the effort. At Local 89, we had five of our members working on our Political Ground Team in support of Beshear. They focused on Jefferson County, knocking on well over five thousand doors and positively identifying thousands of union workers voting in favor of Beshear. Ultimately, the election was won in Jefferson County, which saw phenomenal turnout, and the election was decided by only 5,000 votes. Make no mistake, without Local 89's Political Ground Team and other volunteers from organized labor across Jefferson County, Beshear would not have been elected. Union members worked hard to ensure Bevin left office, and they succeeded.

Governor Beshear has already been hard at work showing his gratitude to the working people of Kentucky. He has reformed the Kentucky Board of Education with pro-worker members. He has reinstated the Occupational Safety and Health Standards board that was completely dismantled by Bevin, and appointed Teamsters Local 783 President John Stovall to serve on the board. These are just two examples of immediate pro-worker changes Governor Beshear implemented. With hard work and dedication, many more will come over the next four years.

Organizing Victory at DSI Tunneling

On November 15th, 2019, workers at DSI Tunneling in Louisville, Kentucky voted by 79% to become members of Teamsters Local 89.

DSI Tunneling workers perform highly skilled jobs manufacturing steel support beams and girders for tunneling and mining operations. Their products are used in major projects across the country.

“We are excited to welcome the workers at DSI Tunneling into our Local 89 family,” said President Fred Zuckerman. “We look forward to helping them fight for what they deserve in their first contract, and we will use any and all resources at our disposal to do so.”

Local 89 wishes to thank Bryan Trafford, an organizer for Local 89, and John Palmer, Southern Region Vice President and lifelong organizer, who led this organizing campaign alongside DSI Tunneling workers.

“I’m so happy for these guys,” said Trafford. “The Company tried to union-bust them for weeks before their election, but a lot of these guys have worked together for a long time, so they stuck together. They’re Teamsters now, and I’m very proud that I was part of their fight.”

Since the successful election, Recording Secretary and Business Agent Jeff Cooper was assigned to negotiate these new member's first contract. Cooper immediately held contract proposal and steward election meetings, and a negotiating committee including three of the new DSI Members was formed.

Bryan Trafford Joins Local 89 Staff

We are happy to welcome Bryan Trafford to the Local 89 staff as a full-time Organizer, where he will use his years of service, passion, and experience to bring union power to the working class within our jurisdiction.

Originally from Georgia, Bryan came to Kentucky in 2009 through his service to our nation's military, in which he held the final rank of Sergeant E5.

Bryan first became a Teamster in 2012 when he started work at Caesars Southern Indiana (then called Harrah's) as a Slot Attendant. At Caesars, Bryan's job was to pay out jackpots and other winnings on various slot machines at the casino. During his time at Caesars, Bryan represented his brothers and sisters as a Steward beginning in 2016, and later as Chief Steward in 2018. He served on the 2016 negotiating committee and has been instrumental in a significant internal organizing campaign to build solidarity for the 2019/2020 negotiations at Caesars.

Not content with serving his co-workers as a steward, Bryan became a leading activist in Local 89's Political Ground Team in 2016 and 2018, and several of Local 89's organizing efforts in the past few years. In 2017, he attended a two-day course with the AFL-CIO Organizing Institute, at which he received some of the highest marks in the class.

In 2019, Bryan began discussions and planning to bring a Labor Notes "Troublemakers School" to Louisville at Local 89. Bryan then helped set up and teach classes at the Troublemakers School, which was attended by over 100 union members and community activists.

He has volunteered his time to assist one of Local 89's partners, Unite Here Local 23, in their successful organizing drive at the Indiana Grand Casino. Most recently, Bryan co-led a highly efficient and successful organizing drive at DSI Tunneling that brought new members into our proud union family.

President Zuckerman and everyone at Teamsters Local 89 are excited to work with Bryan as the newest member of our Office Staff!

Member Spotlight: Harold Finley

Harold Finley is a 35-year member of Teamsters Local 89 who was one of the original employees at the Air District in the Grade Lane facility. As the Air District grew, Harold eventually found himself in the Worldport Freight facility, where he worked for the majority of his long career at UPS. During his time at Worldport Freight, Harold served as a steward for fourteen years. As of today, Harold can be found in the GSE shop.

In April of 2019, Harold successfully published his first book, "An American Unsung", which chronicles the life of Dayton Edie, a United States veteran of World War 2 and the Korean War. The book took Harold seven years to compile and write, but in truth it was nearly four decades in the making.

Harold first met Dayton Edie, whom he always refers to as “Mr. Edie” with an affectionate reverence, during the 1980s while doing yard work for the veteran. Although the two quickly struck up a friendship, it took Harold many years to get Mr. Edie to open up about his time in the military. Once they finally began having conversations about what Mr. Edie had done during his service to our country, those talks continued for a period of seventeen years.

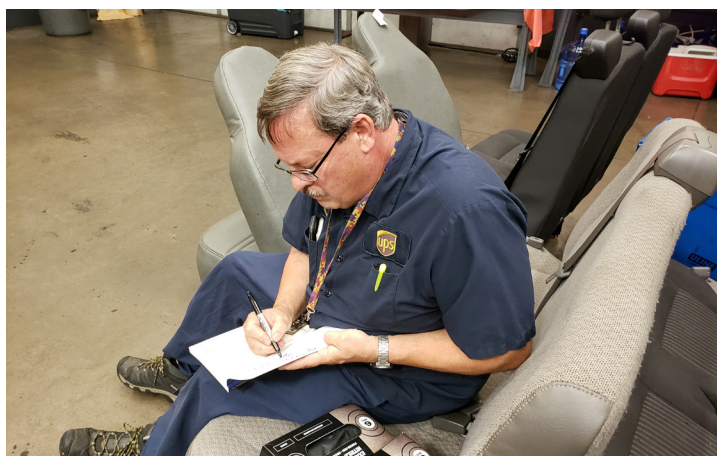

Harold described Mr. Edie as a humble man, but one who had performed exemplary feats during his time in the military, but with few remembering his accomplishments. After Mr. Edie passed away in 2012, Harold began speaking to his departed friend’s wife and family about taking all the stories he had been told during his decades of friendship with the veteran and compiling them into a book. Harold’s goal in doing this was simple; to tell Mr. Edie’s story and get him the recognition he deserved.

At Mr. Edie’s memorial service at a local church, Harold spoke about his dear friend’s early years and how he had entered the service. After the ceremony, many people approached Harold wanting to know how they could get a copy of the book he was working on so they could learn more about Mr. Edie’s service. These were people who had known Mr. Edie for years, but they had no idea he had accomplished so many amazing things during his time in the military.

Unfortunately, Mr. Edie’s grave marker at Arlington National Cemetery had his date of birth incorrect and failed to mention his service in World War 2. Harold didn’t learn of this until shortly after the ceremony and wrote about it in the closing segment of his book. This action resulted in Mr. Edie’s marker being updated with the correct information about his birth and his service record. Harold referred to the updated marker as the moment he was most proud of, and included before and after photos of the marker in the final version of his book.

It is not easy to successfully publish a book, but Harold’s passion and determination to share his dear friend’s story allowed him to persevere. Here at Local 89, we are proud of what Harold accomplished. More than merely being a longtime member and steward, both of which are honorable things, Harold dedicated years of his life to ensuring an American veteran’s story would not be forgotten.

If you would like to read “An American Unsung” by Harold Finley, you can have it ordered at your local bookstore using ISBN code: 978-0-359-57097-3, searching for it on LuLu.com or Amazon.com, or if you know Harold, ask him in person and see if you can get an autographed copy!

Labor Notes - Louisville

Teamsters Local 89 donated our meeting space to Labor Notes for a Louisville "Troublemakers" school. Around 100 union members and community activists attended the event. There were union members present from Teamsters, UAW, JCTA, ATF, Unite Here, IUE-CWA and many other Local's from Kentucky and surrounding states.

Local 89 member Bryan Trafford was one of the lead organizers for the event, and helped lead one of the classes along with IBT Southern Region Vice President John Palmer. Business Agent Jay Dennis served as moderator during a panel session, and Local 89 Communications Director Stephen Piercey helped coordinate the overall event with Labor Notes staff.

Boxes of Love

Early on the morning of December 23rd, 2019, several members of Local 89's staff volunteered to help Boxes of Love, an event that Local 89 has been a sponsor of for the last three years.

Boxes of Love is a collaboration between the Greater Louisville Central Labor Council, GLCLC, area unions, businesses and organizations to provide holiday dinner kits to 1,500 families in need across Kentucky. Many of these kits go to veterans.

Local 89 donated to the cause in 2019, and had volunteers helping to pack the boxes with food and load them onto trucks.

Wave 3 News also briefly spoke to Local 89 Communications Director, Stephen Piercey, on why unions are involved in this effort. He explained that the primary purpose of unions is to help better workers lives, and that actions like Boxes of Love are simply one more way to extend our help to those in our communities.

Thank you to all the Local 89 staff and members who volunteered for this important event, including Trey McCutcheon, Stephen Piercey, Bryan Trafford, Abigayle Baker, Bill Miller and Alan Greenwell.

Bikes or Bust

On November 26th, 2019, staff and members of Teamsters Local 89, alongside dozens of other union volunteers, assisted with Bikes or Bust at UAW Local 862. A long running program, Bikes or Bust works with Q103, Metro United Way, Toys for Tots, and other organizations to distribute bicycles to low income households during the holiday seasons.

This marks the third year that Teamsters Local 89 has donated to this cause. All in all, nearly 2,500 bikes were donated this year from area unions, businesses, and organizations.

Local 89 is proud to have been a partner in this worthwhile cause.
